Artist Statement:

In a recent writing workshop I was asked to send a letter to myself from an 80-year-old version of myself

In fact I didn't, and don't, desire to secure or shape my course; I am much more interested in the mystery

The one thing that did come to mind was how I might see myself from that vantage point, with the power

These songs, poems, and prose, all composed during the same time period, are about keeping that idea
