And to finish off the news broadcast I'd like to tell you about a show I'm helping present for Beth Wood.

Inspired by an electric moment at a Rickie Lee Jones concert, Beth threw caution and her day-job to the wind to become a full-time musician. Twelve years, thousands of shows, seven albums, three cars, and numerous awards later, she has never looked back. Beth's exceptional musicianship, crafty songwriting, and warm stage presence have been winning over audiences from coast to coast. Come and join us for an intimate house concert with my good friend and colleague, Beth Wood. Details to your, eh, left.

See you in some town in the near future!
Many thanks for your continued support of homegrown music,

Gabrielle Louise
